JOE SAKIC

PRESIDENT OF HOCKEY OPERATIONS

Joe Sakic was named President of Hockey Operations on July 11, 2022 and is in his fourth season in that role. The 2025-26 campaign marks Sakic's 15th season in the Avalanche's front office, which included nine years as the club's Executive Vice President/General Manager. He originally joined the front office as Executive Advisor/Alternate Governor, a position he was hired for on March 25, 2011. Sakic was named EVP on May 10, 2013.

Sakic, who captained the Avalanche to a pair of Stanley Cup championships as a player (1996, 2001) and was the architect of Colorado's 2022 Stanley Cup title as General Manager, is the only individual in NHL history to win a Stanley Cup as a captain and GM with the same organization.

The Avalanche enter the 2025-26 season having made eight consecutive playoff appearances, tied for the second-longest active streak in the NHL behind only the Toronto Maple Leafs' nine straight. Since 2019-20, Colorado owns a league-best 287-130-37 (.673) regular-season record, while the 50 playoff wins dating back to 2018-19 trail only Dallas (54), Tampa Bay (52) and Florida (52). The club has also posted four straight 100-point campaigns, a franchise record, and have hit 50 wins in three of the last four seasons.

Sakic was the 2021-22 recipient of the Jim Gregory General Manager of the Year Award, the first executive in club history to receive the honor. Under his direction, the Avalanche had their most successful regular season in franchise history (56-19-7, 119 points) and continued that into the postseason with a 16-4 playoff mark en route to capturing the 2022 Stanley Cup. Colorado's 72 combined wins matched the NHL record set by the 1976-77 Canadiens, 1983-84 Oilers and 1995-96 Red Wings.

Colorado's Stanley Cup championship came five years after a last-place finish in 2016-17. The Avs became the fifth team in the expansion era (1967-68) to win a title within five years of a last place finish and the first since the 2009 Penguins. Colorado won the Presidents' Trophy the previous year in 2020-21, becoming the first NHL team to go from worst in the regular season to first in four seasons or less since the Bruins in 1970-71.

Under Sakic and current GM Chris MacFarland, the Avalanche have signed Nathan MacKinnon, Cale Makar, Gabriel Landeskog, Valeri Nichushkin, Mackenzie Blackwood and Devon Toews to long-term deals, locking up the core of the franchise. Three of those five players were first-round picks since Sakic joined the front office, Blackwood was 28 years old upon his mid-season acquisition, and Toews was traded to the Avs at the age of 26 for a pair of second-round selections. Among Colorado's drafted core during Sakic's tenure, Makar (2020), MacKinnon (2014) and Landeskog (2012) won the Calder Trophy. No team has had as many rookie of the year winners during that span. Additionally, MacKinnon has gone on to win the Hart Trophy and Ted Lindsay Award, Makar has captured two Norris Trophies as well as a Conn Smythe and Landeskog enters this season as the NHL's third-longest tenured captain.

Since Sakic became the President of Hockey Operations, the Avalanche have also locked up Brock Nelson to a three-year contract and agreed to long-term extensions with key depth pieces in Logan O'Connor (six years), Parker Kelly (four years) and got a four-year contract with Ross Colton done less than three weeks after Colorado acquired the pending restricted free agent in a trade.

The Avalanche signed MacKinnon to an eight-year contract in September 2022 and MacKinnon has rewarded the front office with three consecutive 100-point seasons, including a franchise-record 140 points (51g/89a) in 2023-24 en route to taking home both the Hart and Ted Lindsay awards. MacKinnon's deal capped off a busy summer in which the club also agreed to terms on extensions with Valeri Nichushkin (eight years), Artturi Lehkonen (five years) and Josh Manson (four years).

That followed a productive 2021 offseason in which Sakic and company locked up captain Landeskog to an eight-year contract and Makar to a six-year deal. Soon after, the club acquired Darcy Kuemper in a trade on July 28, 2021, and signed free agent Darren Helm the following day. The Avs strengthened the team further as the Trade Deadline approached, adding Manson on March 14 as well as Lehkonen and Andrew Cogliano on March 21. All were key contributors to Colorado's championship run.

Key off-season and in-season acquisitions have been a staple for the franchise under Sakic. In the summer of 2019, Sakic and his staff have brought in Nazem Kadri and Andre Burakovsky via trade while signing Nichushkin. Kadri was selected to his first NHL All-Star Game in 2021-22, Nichushkin led the team in goals during the 2022 Stanley Cup Final and assisted on Burakovsky's overtime winner in Game 1.

In addition to the improvements up front, the Avalanche have also upgraded their blue line. Samuel Girard was acquired as part of a three-team trade in November 2017, a deal that also yielded the fourth overall pick in the 2019 NHL Draft, defenseman Bowen Byram. During the 2020 offseason, the club acquired Toews and signed him to a four-year deal. Byram led all rookies with nine points during the 2022 postseason while Toews is a league-best +178 since joining the Avs.

The Avalanche organization was tabbed as having the NHL's best farm system by The Hockey News in their 2020 Future Watch issue. At the time, the outlet listed Colorado as boasting the NHL's No. 1 prospect in Byram.

Head coach Jared Bednar, hired by Sakic in August 2016, is the winningest in franchise history (390-246-64, .603) and the first Avalanche bench boss to lead his teams to eight consecutive playoff berths. After guiding Colorado to the 2022 Stanley Cup, Bednar became the first individual to win a championship in the NHL, AHL and ECHL as a head coach. Bednar, a finalist for the Jack Adams Award in 2018, owns the sixth-highest postseason winning percentage (.591, 52-35-1) in Stanley Cup Playoff history.

In Sakic's first season of overseeing all hockey-related decisions, the Avalanche won the 2013-14 Central Division championship and tied a then-franchise record with 52 wins. Colorado took home three trophies at the 2014 NHL Awards, tying Boston for the most of any team.

The 2017-18 Avalanche, the league's youngest team, enjoyed one of the greatest turnaround seasons in NHL history, as Colorado's 47-point increase from 2016-17 equaled the fourth-highest, year-to-year improvement ever.

A month into that 2017-18 campaign, the Avalanche orchestrated the three-team trade that added Girard, Vladislav Kamenev and a second-round pick in the 2018 NHL Draft from the Nashville Predators, as well as Shane Bowers, Andrew Hammond, a first-round selection in the 2019 NHL Draft (Byram) and a third-round pick in the 2019 NHL Draft from the Ottawa Senators. All-in-all, that trade landed the Avs a first, second and third-round draft pick, a former first rounder (Bowers) and two former second rounders (Girard, Kamenev).

Sakic announced his retirement from the game of hockey on July 9, 2009, following a career that spanned 20 seasons and 1,378 games with the same organization. He wore the 'C' as team captain for 16 consecutive seasons (17 seasons overall). Steve Yzerman (19 seasons) and Sidney Crosby (18 seasons) are the only other players in NHL history to serve as a captain for at least 17 campaigns. Sakic led the Avalanche to two Stanley Cup titles (1996, 2001), which included the city of Denver's first major professional sports championship in 1996. The Burnaby, British Columbia, native captured the franchise's first Hart Trophy as league MVP in 2001, won the Conn Smythe Trophy as playoff MVP in 1996, earned the Lester B. Pearson Award (NHLPA MVP) and Lady Byng Trophy (sportsmanship) in 2001 and was named to the NHL's First All-Star Team on three occasions (2001, 2002 and 2004).

Sakic was elected to the Hockey Hall of Fame in 2012, his first year of eligibility. The only player who spent his entire career with the Avalanche organization to achieve that honor, Sakic was officially inducted into the Hockey Hall of Fame on Nov. 12, 2012. He was named one of "The 100 Greatest NHL Players" honoring 100 years of NHL hockey in 2017.

Sakic retired as the eighth-highest scorer in NHL history with 1,641 career points. He ranked seventh all-time in both playoff goals (84) and playoff points (188-tied), and still holds the NHL record with eight postseason overtime goals.

Selected by the Quebec Nordiques in the first round (15th overall) of the 1987 Entry Draft, Sakic is the franchise's all-time leader in nearly every statistical category. With Sakic as team captain, the Avalanche/Nordiques captured an NHL-record nine consecutive division championships from 1995 to 2003. In addition to its two Stanley Cup titles, the Avalanche also won two Presidents' Trophies and made six appearances in the Western Conference Finals during that time span.

Sakic's No. 19 jersey was retired by the Avalanche during a pre-game ceremony on Oct. 1, 2009.

Joe and his wife, Debbie, have three children: Mitchell and twins Chase and Kamryn. The Sakics are active with the Food Bank of the Rockies charity, and Joe previously hosted his own charity golf tournament to benefit the Food Bank in Denver. Sakic was awarded the 2007 NHL Foundation Player Award in recognition of his commitment and service to charities in his community. He currently serves on the Hockey Hall of Fame Selection Committee.

CHRIS MacFARLAND

GENERAL MANAGER

Chris MacFarland was named General Manager of the Avalanche on July 11, 2022 and begins his fourth season in that role. The 2025-26 campaign marks his 11th season with the organization as he spent seven years as Assistant General Manager from 2015-16 to 2021-22. Hired on May 21, 2015, MacFarland, 55, has worked closely with Joe Sakic regarding all hockey-related matters during his time in Colorado and was a pivotal part of the turnaround from finishing last in the league in 2016-17 to capturing the Presidents' Trophy in 2020-21 and winning the Stanley Cup in 2022.

The Avalanche have earned a berth in the Stanley Cup Playoffs eight consecutive seasons, tied for the second-longest active streak in the NHL (Toronto, nine straight). In that span, Colorado owns a league-best 287-130-37 (.673) regular-season record since 2019-20. Dating back to 2018-19, the Avs have gone 50-31 in the playoffs, with Dallas (54) being the only Western Conference team with more playoff victories since then. The club also has posted four straight 100-point campaigns, a franchise record, and have hit 50 wins in three of the last four seasons. That stretch includes notching a club-record 56 victories during the Stanley Cup-winning season of 2021-22.

MacFarland's first pieces of business this past offseason was locking up veteran center Brock Nelson to a three-year contract after he was acquired at the 2025 Trade Deadline. The club also provided present and future reinforcements to the organization's prospect system by acquiring former Big Ten Player of the Year Gavin Brindley along with two draft picks in a deal with Columbus. Once free agency began, management then signed former Norris Trophy winner Brent Burns to a one-year contract to bolster the team's blue line depth. And later on, MacFarland and his staff also brought back Joel Kiviranta and signed Victor Olofsson to one-year deals to round out the additions up front.

Over the 2024-25 campaign, MacFarland engineered one of the biggest in-season roster overhauls the league has ever seen. The club made eight trades between Opening Night and the Trade Deadline and became the 13th time that a team qualified for the postseason with at least 10 different players in the team's first playoff game compared to Opening Night. That number increased to 11 different players for Game 3 of the First Round when captain Gabriel Landeskog returned to the lineup after a 1,032 day absence. The in-season trades included swapping out both goaltenders – the first time in NHL history that a team has traded both opening night goaltenders before Christmas – and acquiring Martin Necas in a three-team trade that marked the first time since 1990-91 a trade occurred involving two players averaging over a point per game that late into the season.

Since taking over as General Manager, MacFarland has inked long-term extensions with both Devon Toews (seven years) and Nathan MacKinnon (eight years). Toews, who signed two days after the 2023-24 season-opener, just posted his fourth straight 40-point season and second consecutive campaign of hitting double-digit goals. MacKinnon, who signed prior to the start of the 2022-23 training camp, won the Hart Trophy and Ted Lindsay award during the first year of his extension in 2023-24 after breaking the single-season franchise record for points with 140 (51g/89a). He then followed it up with a 116-point output last year (32g/84a). MacKinnon's signing wrapped up a busy summer of 2022 in which the Avs agreed to terms with Artturi Lehkonen on a five-year agreement, Valeri Nichushkin to an eight-year extension and Josh Manson on a four-year contract.

This followed up the previous summer (2021) that saw the Avs ink Landeskog to an eight-year contract, while also signing Cale Makar to a six-year deal. Landeskog captained the team to the Stanley Cup while Makar has taken home two Norris Trophies and a Conn Smythe Trophy. Among the other moves made during MacFarland's tenure with the Avalanche include trades for Nazem Kadri, Andre Burakovsky, Samuel Girard and Toews, as well as key deadline acquisitions in Manson, Lehkonen and Andrew Cogliano to propel them to the 2022 Stanley Cup.

Prior to joining the Avalanche, MacFarland was a member of the Columbus Blue Jackets' hockey operations department for 16 years. He worked in nearly every facet of the organization including scouting at the professional and amateur level, player contract negotiations, salary cap management and arbitration, collective bargaining agreement administration, budgeting and team scheduling issues. He also oversaw the hockey operations efforts of the Blue Jackets' minor-league affiliates.

MacFarland joined Columbus prior to the 1999-00 NHL campaign and served as the club's manager of hockey operations from 2001-07 before being promoted to assistant to the general manager in July 2007. He moved to the position of assistant general manager a year later in July 2008. Born on March 28, 1970 in the Bronx, New York, he played college hockey at Pace University where he received a bachelor's degree in business in 1992 and later graduated from the university's law school in 1998. He began his career on the business side of the sport as an intern in the NHL's New York office from 1993-94 and worked in the NHL Productions office while attending law school.

Chris and his wife, Chandra, have three sons, Jake, Gavin, Sawyer, and a daughter, Cara.

KEVIN McDONALD

ASSISTANT GENERAL MANAGER

Kevin McDonald begins his fourth season with the Avalanche. In addition to duties as Assistant General Manager, McDonald serves as General Manager of the organization's American Hockey League affiliate, the Colorado Eagles. The Eagles have qualified for the Calder Cup Playoffs each season McDonald has been with the organization.

The 2025-26 campaign marks McDonald's 38th year working in the front office for an NHL team. He was a part of two Stanley Cup championship clubs, the 1994 New York Rangers and the 2019 St. Louis Blues.

Since arriving on July 22, 2022, McDonald has made multiple hires that shaped the Eagles' coaching staff. This past summer, McDonald hired Mark Letestu as Head Coach of the Eagles, who spent the last four seasons as an assistant with the AHL's Cleveland Monsters and played parts of 14 seasons of professional hockey. He rounded out the staff with Derek Army, who was the winningest coach in Wheeling Nailers franchise history, to join the reigns as an assistant. McDonald's first head coach hire – Aaron Schneekloth – accepted an NHL position with the Seattle Kraken. He ascended to the Eagles' bench boss role after Greg Cronin took a head coaching position with the Anaheim Ducks. Additionally, the team saw 2001 Stanley Cup winner Dan Hinote parlay his Eagles coaching tenure into an NHL opportunity with the Tampa Bay Lightning.

Prior to joining the Avalanche, McDonald was with the St. Louis Blues organization for 21 seasons, which included working as Assistant GM for the 2019 Stanley Cup championship team. McDonald had served as General Manager of the Blues' American Hockey League affiliate since Aug. 28, 2018 and in that role, was also a pro scout for St. Louis. He was the recipient of the 2022 Thomas Ebright Memorial Award, which is annually presented for outstanding career contributions to the American Hockey League.

McDonald originally joined the Blues organization prior to the 2001-02 season as a professional scout. He scouted professional talent for St. Louis for two years before the organization promoted him to Director of Professional Scouting in 2003. In June 2005, he was given the added responsibilities of being the general manager of the Blues' former AHL affiliate, the Peoria Rivermen. In May 2009, McDonald was named Assistant General Manager for the Notes and worked closely with St. Louis President of Hockey Operations and General Manager Doug Armstrong in coordinating the transfer of players and in acquiring professional hockey players.

McDonald began his career in professional hockey in 1988 as a member of the communications department of the New York Rangers. Following the 1993-94 season when the Rangers won the Stanley Cup, he moved into the Rangers' hockey operations department and worked as an assistant to Rangers General Manager Neil Smith during the lockout-shortened 1994-95 season.

A native of Lawrence, Massachusetts, McDonald is married (Lauren), has two children (Sean and Kayleigh) and three step-children (Joseph, Jenna, and Daniel).

ANDREW WILSON

ASSISTANT GENERAL MANAGER

Andrew Wilson was hired by the Avalanche on August 16, 2024 as Assistant General Manager. Now in his second season in that role, Wilson works closely with General Manager Chris MacFarland on all hockey-related matters, including salary cap management, contract negotiations and Collective Bargaining Agreement (CBA) administration.

Prior to joining the Avalanche, Wilson, 42, spent 18 years working at the National Hockey League, including three years as Vice President of Central Registry. He was one of the primary contacts for the 32 member NHL teams regarding CBA compliance and salary cap management, and also handled trade calls and contract affairs.

A native of Pointe-Claire, Quebec, Wilson played a key role in working out a new CBA that would save the remainder of the 2019-20 season and work through the next few amid the COVID-19 pandemic. Details included finalizing player payments during the pandemic, directing the configurations of salary arbitrations, trade contingencies and player bonuses shortly after the league suspended play on March 12, 2020 as well as ahead of the abbreviated 2020-21 campaign.

Wilson first joined the league offices the year after the NHL lockout in 2004-05 and helped navigate the revamped league after the season-long work stoppage. He worked in various capacities during his tenure with the NHL offices.

Wilson is bilingual - fluent in English and French - and lives with his wife, Julie, and two sons, Ben and Noah, in Oakville, Ontario.

ANDREW COGLIANO

SPECIAL ASSISTANT TO THE GENERAL MANAGER

Andrew Cogliano is entering his second season in his front office role as Special Assistant to the General Manager. He assists President of Hockey Operations Joe Sakic and General Manager Chris MacFarland in a variety of roles, including player development, professional and amateur scouting, as well as working with the American Hockey League's Colorado Eagles.

Cogliano enjoyed a 17-year playing career where he competed in 1,294 regular-season games, recording 464 points (190g/274a) with the Edmonton Oilers, Anaheim Ducks, Dallas Stars, San Jose Sharks and Colorado. He also recorded 40 points (13g/27a) in 131 career postseason games and helped the Avalanche win the 2022 Stanley Cup. Selected by the Oilers in the first round (25th overall) of the 2005 NHL Draft, Cogliano spent his first four seasons with Edmonton (2007-11), followed by parts of eight years with the Ducks (2011-19). Cogliano opened his career with an 830-game ironman streak from Oct. 4, 2007 to Jan. 13, 2018, which was the fourth-longest streak in NHL history at the time. He joined Doug Jarvis (964 games) as the only players to appear in 800-plus consecutive games from the start of his career. Cogliano ended up dressing in 98% of possible team games (1,294 of 1,321) over the course of his career.

Following his stint with the Ducks, Cogliano joined the Stars where he spent parts of three seasons from 2018-19 to 2020-21. After playing 54 games with the Sharks in 2021-22, Cogliano joining the Avalanche at the trade deadline on March 21, 2022 and three months later hoisted Lord Stanley after Colorado defeated Tampa Bay in the Final. Cogliano skated in 172 regular-season outings with the Avalanche and totaled 39 points (16g/23a) while adding 11 points (3g/8a) in 31 playoff games.

Before winning the Stanley Cup with Colorado, Cogliano helped the Stars reach the Stanley Cup Final in 2020 and was part of Anaheim's runs to the Western Conference Final in 2015 and 2017. Cogliano's 1,294 games ranked ninth among active skaters upon retirement while his 22 career shorthanded goals were second to only Brad Marchand (36).

Cogliano played two seasons at the University of Michigan from 2005-07, recording 78 points (36g/42a) in 77 games and was named to the 2006 CCHA All-Rookie Team. Internationally, he helped Team Canada capture gold at both the 2006 and 2007 IIHF World Junior Championships.

Andrew resides in Denver with his wife, Allie, and three daughters, Lottie, Olive and Poppy.

2025-26
COLORADO AVALANCHE

JARED BEDNAR

HEAD COACH

Jared Bednar, the only individual to win a championship in the NHL, AHL and ECHL as a head coach, is in his 10th season as the Avalanche's head coach. Hired on Aug. 25, 2016, Bednar is the second-longest tenured coach in the NHL behind only Tampa Bay's Jon Cooper (March 25, 2013).

Bednar, 53, guided the Avalanche to their fourth straight 100-point season in 2024-25 and qualified for the playoffs for the eighth straight campaign. Colorado's eight consecutive playoff berths mark the second-longest stretch in franchise history behind an 11-year run from 1995-96 through 2005-06, as well as tied for the second-longest active streak in the NHL. Jared is the first coach in Avalanche/Nordiques history to lead his teams to eight consecutive postseason berths, passing Michel Bergeron for that honor this past season.

Bednar is the winningest coach in Avalanche/Nordiques franchise history with a 390-246-64 (.603) record in 700 regular-season games behind the bench. The 390 victories are the seventh-most by an NHL bench boss through his first 700 games. He owns a 52-35-1 (.591) record in 88 postseason contests, the sixth-best playoff winning percentage all time (min. 50 games) behind Glen Sather (.706), Toe Blake (.689), Scotty Bowman (.632), Hap Day (.613) and Larry Robinson (.596). Bednar, who signed a three-year extension through 2026-27 on March 21, 2023, also has the most playoff wins in franchise history.

Under Bednar's tutelage, Colorado has produced an NHL-best 287-130-37 (.673) regular-season record since 2019-20, including a 49-29-4 record in 2024-25. The influx of victories that season elevated Bednar into a tie for 43rd all-time on the coaching ledger as well as 16th in wins for a single franchise. The head coach recorded his 300th career victory on Nov. 13, 2023 at Seattle, becoming the 53rd in NHL history to win 300 games and 32nd to do it with one franchise. On that night, he tied Mike Keenan as the 12th fastest to 300 wins (550 contests). Just 10 wins shy of 400, Bednar looks to join a group of 41 head coaches who have captured 400 victories in his career, and just 15 who have hit that benchmark with one franchise.

In the last two seasons, Bednar has overseen Nathan MacKinnon's Hart Trophy and Ted Lindsay Award campaign (2023-24) and Cale Makar taking home his second career Norris Trophy (2024-25). It's the first time since 2017-18 and 2018-19 that a coach has been behind the bench for players that he coached winning a Hart and a Norris Trophy in consecutive seasons.

The 2025-26 campaign marks Bednar's 24th season of coaching professional hockey, 16 of which have been as a head coach. He posted a .603 winning percentage as a minor league head coach (251-158-23-19).

Bednar led the 2021-22 Avalanche to their most successful regular season in franchise history (56-19-7, 119 points) and continued that into the postseason with a 16-4 mark en route to capturing the Stanley Cup. The Stanley Cup championship completed the trio of league titles: Calder Cup with the Lake Erie Monsters in 2016 and a Kelly Cup with the South Carolina Stingrays in 2009. Colorado's 72 combined regular season and playoff victories in 2021-22 matched the NHL record set by the 1976-77 Canadiens, 1983-84 Oilers and 1995-96 Red Wings. Bednar coached the Central Division during the 2022 NHL All-Star Weekend in Las Vegas, the first Avalanche bench boss to serve as a head coach at the All-Star Game. Bednar passed Bob Hartley for the most wins by an Avalanche coach (194) on Nov. 24, 2021 and then became the franchise's all-time winningest coach with his 266th victory on Jan. 24, 2023 against the Washington Capitals.

The Saskatchewan native led the Avalanche to the Presidents' Trophy and Honda West Division championship in 2020-21. The Avs, who finished last in the league in 2016-17, became the first NHL club to go from worst to first in four seasons or less since the 1970-71 Bruins.

Bednar was a finalist for the Jack Adams Award as the NHL's coach of the year during his second season in 2017-18. He led the Avs to a berth in the Stanley Cup Playoffs with a 43-30-9 record (95 points), a jump of 47 points from the previous year. Colorado's 47-point turnaround equaled the fourth-highest year-to-year improvement in NHL history. He joined Harry Sinden in 1967-68 as the only coaches in NHL history to record at least 20 more wins in their second season as a head coach than in his first. Sinden led the Bruins to 37 victories in 1967-68 after winning 17 games in 1966-67.

In 2019-20, Bednar guided the Avalanche to a second-place finish in the Central Division and the Western Conference with 92 points in 70 games during the shortened campaign. The Avs were two points behind St. Louis (94) but played one fewer contest when the regular season was paused and eventually concluded. The Avalanche tied Tampa Bay for the third-most points in the NHL behind the Blues and Bruins (100).

Prior to joining the Avalanche organization, Bednar guided the Columbus Blue Jackets' AHL affiliate, the Lake Erie Monsters, to the 2016 Calder Cup championship. The Monsters finished second in the Central Division with a 43-22-6-5 record (97 points) and then proceeded to go 15-2 during the postseason, sweeping both the Western Conference Final and Calder Cup Final. Bednar served as the head coach of the Blue Jackets' previous AHL affiliate, the Springfield Falcons, in 2014-15 and also spent two seasons as the head coach of the AHL's Peoria Rivermen from 2010-12. He began his coaching career as an assistant with the South Carolina Stingrays of the ECHL in 2002-03. Bednar took over the Stingrays' head coaching job in 2007-08 and in his second season led South Carolina to the 2009 Kelly Cup championship. He posted a .654 winning percentage (89-45-9) in two years as an ECHL head coach. Jared was an assistant coach in the AHL with Abbotsford in 2009-10 and later served two seasons as an assistant with Springfield from 2012-14.

The defenseman played nine seasons of professional hockey, a career that spanned parts of eight seasons in the ECHL with the Huntington Blizzard and Stingrays (1993-2002), parts of three seasons in the AHL with the St. John's Maple Leafs and Rochester Americans (1996-2000), and one season in the IHL with the Grand Rapids Griffins in 1998-99. He was part of two Kelly Cup championship teams as a player, 1997 and 2001 with South Carolina. Prior to turning pro, Bednar spent three seasons in the Western Hockey League from 1990-93, competing with the Saskatoon Blades, Spokane Chiefs, Medicine Hat Tigers and Prince Albert Raiders. Bednar was inducted into the ECHL Hall of Fame in 2020.

Jared and his wife, Susan, have a son, Kruz and a daughter, Savega. Bednar, who lived in Humboldt, Saskatchewan, on two different occasions for a decade during his youth and also played for the Humboldt Broncos, is personally involved in helping the victims and families of the 2018 Humboldt Broncos bus accident. He hosts a golf tournament in Humboldt each summer and during the 2022 event brought the Stanley Cup to share with the community.

NOLAN PRATT

ASSISTANT COACH

Nolan Pratt is beginning his 10th season with the Avalanche after being named an assistant coach on July 15, 2016. Pratt, 50, has coached alongside Jared Bednar since the two served as assistant coaches for the American Hockey League's Springfield Falcons in 2012-13.

In addition to being an assistant coach on Colorado's 2022 Stanley Cup championship team, Pratt was also an assistant for the 2016 Calder Cup winning Lake Erie Monsters. He has been behind the bench for the Avalanche's current run of eight straight playoff appearances.

Pratt's duties with the team include overseeing the defense and penalty kill. The Avalanche featured the NHL's highest-scoring blueline for the fifth straight year in 2024-25, as Colorado's defensemen led all teams with 211 points (54g/157a). That current run is tied with the Calgary Flames (1986-91) for the longest such streak in NHL history. In previous seasons with Pratt running the defense, Colorado logged a franchise-best 241 points (62g/179a) from the backend in 2023-24, while the 62 goals tied the Avalanche/Nordiques record set in 2021-22. During its run to the 2022 Stanley Cup, Colorado's backline registered 69 points (18g/51a), the most in a four-round postseason since the 1984-85 Oilers (77).

At their own end of the ice, Pratt has elevated Colorado's defense to among one of the best in the league, as the Avalanche hold the seventh-lowest goals-per-game (2.82) of any team over the last eight seasons. Additionally, the Avalanche's penalty kill ranks 10th in the league since 2017-18 at 80.5%.

Since 2017-18, the Avalanche have had at least one blueliner finish in the top-10 in Norris Trophy voting every season in that span, highlighted by Cale Makar taking home the award in both 2024-25 and 2021-22. With Pratt overseeing the defense, Makar became the first player in franchise history to capture a Norris Trophy and has set franchise records for single-season goals (30, 2024-25), assists (69, 2023-24) and points (92, 2024-25) during the 26-year-old's young career. In fact, Makar is the only player to win multiple Norris Trophies in the last four seasons as well as the only blueliner to be nominated every year in that span.

The 2016-17 campaign was Pratt's first behind the bench in the NHL after spending five seasons as an assistant coach in the American Hockey League with the Lake Erie Monsters (2015-16) and the Springfield Falcons (2011-15).

A native of Fort McMurray, Alberta, Pratt spent 11 seasons in the NHL, playing 592 games with Hartford/Carolina, Colorado, Tampa Bay and Buffalo. He was a member of the Avalanche's 2001 Stanley Cup championship team, and also won a Cup as a member of the Lightning in 2003-04. Selected by the Whalers in the fifth round (115th overall) of the 1993 Entry Draft, Pratt finished with 65 points (9g/56a) and 537 penalty minutes during his career, which included three points (1g/2a) in 46 games during his lone season with the Avs in 2000-01.

Nolan and his wife, Deborah, have two daughters, Ella and Kira.

DAVE HAKSTOL

ASSISTANT COACH

Dave Hakstol was hired as an assistant coach for the Avalanche on July 8, 2025 and is in his first season with the organization. He most recently was on an NHL bench when he was the first Head Coach of the Seattle Kraken, serving in that role from 2021-24.

During those three seasons in Seattle, the Kraken posted a 107-112-27 record and qualified for the Stanley Cup Playoffs in 2022-23. That postseason, the team made it to the Second Round as a Wild Card on the heels of a 100-point campaign that made Hakstol a finalist for the 2023 Jack Adams Award. The Kraken improved by 19 wins and 40 standings points between seasons one and two with him as the bench boss. Hakstol spent the 2024-25 campaign as an assistant coach for Team Canada at the Spengler Cup.

In addition to being named a Jack Adams finalist, Hakstol and the Kraken received recognition in 2022-23 when Matty Beniers was named the winner of the Calder Memorial Trophy as the NHL rookie of the year. That 2022-23 campaign, Beniers tallied 24 goals and registered 57 points, both the most out of any rookie that season. While playing for Hakstol, Seattle also saw forward Jared McCann become a consistent 20-goal, 60-point player – topping out with 40 goals and 70 points in 2022-23 – and Vince Dunn posting career-highs in goals (14) and assists (50) from the back end in 2022-23, ranking in the top-10 among blueliners in both categories that season.

A native of Drayton Valley, Alberta, Hakstol was behind the bench as an assistant for the Toronto Maple Leafs in 2019-20 and 2020-21, earning a postseason berth in both seasons. In that span, the club scored 423 goals and recorded a 21.7% power play, ranking tied for third and tied for eighth in the NHL, respectively. His final season there, Auston Matthews took home the Rocket Richard Trophy (41g/25a) as the league's top goal scorer.

Prior to his tenure in Toronto, Hakstol was the Head Coach for the Philadelphia Flyers over parts of the 2015-19 seasons. The Flyers compiled a 134-101-42 regular-season record and qualified for the Stanley Cup Playoffs twice under his tutelage. Individual player accomplishments during his stint in Philadelphia include Claude Giroux sharing the league-lead for assists (68) in 2017-18 and the franchise boasting a Calder finalist in Shayne Gostisbehere in 2015-16.

Hakstol, 57, spent 15 seasons coaching at the University of North Dakota – his alma mater – before joining the Flyers. The final 11 of those campaigns saw Hakstol as the program's Head Coach (2004-15). During that span, North Dakota recorded a 289-143-43 clip, reached the Frozen Four seven times, took home four conference playoff championships and three regular-season titles. He was selected as the Coach of the Year for his conference twice (2008-09 as Western Collegiate Hockey Association; 2014-15 as National Collegiate Hockey Conference).

JUSSI PARKKILA

GOALTENDING COACH

Jussi Parkkila begins his ninth season as Colorado's goaltending coach after being named to his position on July 7, 2017. The Avalanche have made the postseason in every campaign since Parkkila joined the staff, which includes three division championships, as well as the 2021 Presidents' Trophy and the 2022 Stanley Cup.

During Parkkila's time as goalie coach, Colorado's netminders have posted the NHL's sixth-best save percentage (.907) and the seventh-fewest goals against (2.82).

The 2024-25 Avalanche were the first team in NHL history to trade away both their Opening Night goaltenders before Christmas. From Dec. 8 on, one day before the acquisition of Mackenzie Blackwood and a week after Scott Wedgewood joined the team, the Avalanche finished the regular season allowing 2.38 goals-per-game, second best in the NHL behind only Winnipeg (2.20). Blackwood set career highs in wins (28) and shutouts (4) between Colorado and New Jersey, and also posted a 22-12-3 record with a 2.33 GAA, .913 Sv% and three shutouts in 37 games with the Avs. Meanwhile, Wedgewood produced a 13-4-1 record, a 1.99 GAA, a .917 Sv% and two shutouts over 19 games since his Colorado debut on Dec. 3.

Furthermore, in each of the last six seasons (2019-20 to 2024-25), Colorado has had a netminder finish among the league leaders in notable statistical categories: Blackwood's overall Sv% (.912) and GAA (2.55) in 2024-25 saw him place eighth and ninth, respectively. Alexandar Georgiev ranked first in wins in 2022-23 (tied) and 2023-24, Darcy Kuemper finished fifth in Sv% (.921) in 2021-22, Philipp Grubauer ranked eighth in Sv% (.922) in 2020-21 and Pavel Francouz shared the fifth-best Sv% (.923) in 2019-20.

Prior to joining the Avalanche, Parkkila, 48, spent 12 seasons coaching goaltenders in Europe, which included a five-year stint in Russia's KHL and two seasons in Finland's top professional league (Liiga). He spent the 2016-17 campaign coaching goalies for the Grazz 99ers in Austria. Prior to that, Parkkila served as goaltending coach in the KHL with Avangard Omsk (2014-15), SKA St. Petersburg (2011-14) and Atlant Mytischi (2010-11).

After three years with the Ilves U-20 team in Finland, Parkkila began his pro coaching career with the KHL's Yaroslavl Lokomotiv in 2007-08. The Tampere, Finland, native then moved on to coach with Tappara in Finland's top league for two seasons (2008-10).

Parkkila resides in his native Finland during the offseason with his wife, Niina, and daughter, Julia.

RECORD SELLOUT STREAK

The Avalanche registered 487 consecutive home sellouts from Nov. 9, 1995 to Oct. 14, 2006, the longest recorded streak in NHL history (since passed). That run came to an end on Oct. 16, 2006 against Chicago, the team's first non-sellout crowd since Nov. 1, 1995. The Avalanche celebrated its 500th sellout since the franchise moved to Denver with a 3-1 victory over the Detroit Red Wings on Jan. 20, 2007.

The Avalanche enter the 2025-26 season with an active sellout streak of 153 games dating back to March 25, 2022
